Gentlemen's Driving Club Matinee

The Bulletin should be delivered everywhere in the city before 6 a. m.
Subscribers who fail to receive it by that time will confer a favor by reporting the fact to The Bulletin Co. Large Crowd Attracted to Fair Gronnd for Horse Races and Three and Five Mile Footraces.

At the fair grounds on Memorial day the Gendlemen's Driving club made a most successful event of its opening programme of oat races for the season, having a crowd of nearly 600 on the grounds and delighted with the varied programme of sport provided. From the time the first heat of the 2.23 trot or pace was put on, although half an hour late in starting, there was something lively going on until 6.30, with several comedy elements that sent everybody home happy.

Besides the horse racing, the three and five mile foot races proved a fine attraction and were well carried out, and the running races for horses was one of the features of the afternoon.

In the judges' stand the officials for the afternoon were Fred West of New London as starter, W. S. Aldrich and F. T. Mitchell of Westerly and C. J. Winters of this city as judges and timers. Gus Lambert and David R. Kinney were the marshals.

Horse Races.

Doubted into the stable yard in the first heat. With the horses about to run, the added entry of a white horse, Lebmanon Center, or John Fairplay by C. W. Woodmansee of Freston City, made a runpus, when the "rube" rider brough the horse in a winner in the first heat. The jockeys refused to race unless he was in it only for sport, and Woodmansee consented, going in the last heat. On the start of the second heat, the old white horse fell line a pocket and couldn't come furough, but he evened up the next time by hanging jockey Carberry up to the ference when his horse, Spokane, was crowded off into the marshal's result of the start. The "rube" then was crowded off into the marshal's result of the start. The "rube" then was crowded off into the marshal's result of the start. The start of the agreement Spokane was given first money, Brown Heels second, Lebanon Center third and Wild Bill fourth. The summary:

The following records, reported from Sevin's pharmacy, show the changes in temperature and the barometric changes Monday:

Predictions for Monday: Fair and varmer; light variable winds. Monday's weather: As predicted. First called was the 2.28 class, pace or trot, with a field of four entered, Bonnie Bairn by T. F. Burns, Ginger Ale by J. D. Pfeiffer, Lady R. by C. M. Miller of Groton and Roan Hal by Jonn Walz, the horses dividing the oats in the order named. After losing the first heat to Lady R., Bonnie Bairn took the race easily in the three succeeding heats. Kingsley of Willimantic, a driver new to this track was holding the ribbons over the Burns horse, making a good impression for the way in which he handled her as well as Roan Lady in the following race.

Wilson's game little pacer Roan Lady, and Murty R., a black whirlwind belonging to Joe Demaris of Taftville. The roan pacing mare copped the race in five heats, winning the decision of the judges in the last heat because Murty R. was set back for running on the back stretch, while Roan Lady went level throughout the heat and finished a length behind the Taftville horse. The fourth heat of this class was the real electrifier of the afternoon, Murty R, and Roan Lady coming to the wire in a whipping finish from the head of the stretch and it was some minutes before the judges announced that Murty cipate in a most enjoyable banquet, ne first in the history of the associa-The members of the four classes gathered at the school building at 7.30 and for an hour whist was enjoyed. President Daniel Cummings acted as toastmaster in a capable manner and first called upon Rev. Father Smith, who spoke upon the impertance of an alumni association and urged them to keep together in the future as in the past. President Cummings then called for the toasts, the responses to all of which were very interestingly and wittily given, as follows:

Our School, Frank Burke; Our Priests, Mary Leonard; Our Teachers, Paul Gadie; St. Mary's Alumni, Max Foloy; The Class of 1909, James Timmins: Our Officers, Helen Sullivan; The Boys, Louise Bellefleur; The Girls, Frank Leonard; The Violinists and Teacher, Theodore Gladue; The Mandollnists and Teacher, Winifred Driscollnists All Teacher Sullivant Control Class of the total to find the three Frank Leonard: The Violinists and Teacher, Theodore Gladue: The Mandolinists and Teacher, Winifred Driscoil.

John Donovan was called upon and gave The Prophecy of the Class of '99.
Following the speaking, which ended at 11, there was dancing for a short time, and then the members departed, after a thoroughly delightful evening, arranged by these committees: Entertainment, Margaret Leonard, Neille Barry, Joseph Casey and William Connors; business, Helen Shea and Leadore Gladue.
